

I should hope that the law protecting the privacy of N.J. residents from the intrusions of telemarketers will continue to be the success it is.